

WOMEN OF COLUMBIA WHO REGISTERED FOR WAR SERVICE.

The Missourian will publish the names of all women in Columbia who voluntarily registered Saturday, July 28, for service during the present war crisis. Owing to the fact that most of the women volunteered their services for many different kinds of work, it is impossible to give the work which was specified. A majority of the women signed the Hoover Pledge to do all possible to conserve the food supply during the war. Voluntary contributions were made at the time of registering to defray the expenses of the registration.

IS RELATED TO CURATOR

But Attorney General Rules C. Y. Clayton Can Keep Job.

The Rolla Herald publishes the following of local interest:

"A recent report of the Board of Visitors of the University of Missouri calls the attention of the Board of Curators of said institution to the fact that C. Y. Clayton, who holds the position of Assistant Professor of Metallurgy at the School of Mines, is a son-in-law of Dr. S. L. Baysinger, a member of the Board of Curators, and as a result violated Section 11107 of the Revised Statutes of Missouri, which declares: 'No person who is related by blood or marriage to any member of the board of curators of the University shall be appointed to any position in the University as officer, member of faculty or employee.'"

"The facts in the case are: That Mr. Clayton was employed as instructor at the School of Mines on May 29 1913; on June 2, 1915, he was made assistant professor, and, later, on July 22, 1915, he was united in marriage with Miss Alma Baysinger, daughter of Dr. S. L. Baysinger, a member of the Board of Curators.

"The law and the facts were submitted, through Attorney J. A. Watson of this city, to Attorney General Frank W. McAllister for an opinion. After citing several authorities, the Attorney General says: As the statute in question expressly makes a disqualification of relationship by blood or marriage, related solely to the time of appointment, it is our opinion that his relationship to a member of the Board of Curators, after the valid appointment, does not disqualify him as a member of the faculty of said School of Mines."

BIG STORE TO MOVE?

Fredendall Building Has Been Advertised as for Rent by Its Owners.

Indications that one of Columbia's biggest business houses will move at the end of the year are shown in the fact that Dozier Stone, owner of the Fredendall Building, 15-21 South Ninth street, has advertised the entire building for rent January 1.

While no confirmation of frequent rumors that the Fredendall store would move has been received, it has been believed practically certain for several weeks that A. Fredendall, proprietor of the store, had leased the building now being erected next door to the new Boone County National Bank Building, and would move there just as soon as his lease at the present building expired.

The Fredendall Store is one of the largest department stores in this part of the state and its being located on South Ninth street has done much to raise real estate values in that district. The new store is being built by R. B. Price, Jr., and will be full two stories with basement. It will be constructed of terra cotta and brick, and will correspond to the new John Estes Store, which is located directly south of it. It will have a large window display space, and is being designed as a model department store.
